AMERICAN WARSHIP OFF TAMPICO SEVEN FIREMEN DROWN IN OIL FIGHTING PITTSBURG BLAZE

Rebels Decide To Postpone Their Blockade

U. S. CRUISER OFF TAMPICO
WASHINGTON, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The American cruiser Richmond has arrived off Tampico, the Mexican port where the de la Huerta rebels are attempting a blockade. Her commander is understood to have side discretionary powers in protecting American commerce and American interests generally from any interference by the blockading forces.

MEXICAN TROOPS CROSS TEXAS
EL PASO, TEXAS, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—A special train carrying approximately 500 Mexican Federal troops, passed through El Paso today at 6:45 a. m. and was immediately routed to Juarez. Special troops of United States troops and El Paso police accompanied the train through the lower part of the city. The troops came from western Mexico by way of Naco, Ariz., and will be sent to the interior of Mexico.

REBEL BLOCKADE POSTPONED
WASHINGTON, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The rebel blockade of the port of Tampico has been postponed until the end of the present month. Rear Admiral Magruder reported to the Navy Department today that his arrival off that port about his vessel, the cruiser Richmond. In announcing receipt of the message, the State Department said that Admiral Magruder had not indicated the source of his information. His message served, however, to relieve tension in Washington in connection with the Tampico situation.

Uneasiness Diminished
WASHINGTON, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Uneasiness over the Mexican situation has diminished considerably in Washington. Government circles with the assembling of night warships off Vera Cruz. The rebel capital, under command of Rear Admiral Magruder, on the fast cruiser Richmond. Arrival of the Richmond, it is thought, not only assures the safety of the crew of the stranded cruiser Tampa and reopens untrammelled communication with rebel controlled territory, but the proximity of the fleet prevents a silent but emphatic warning to revolutionists that the attempt to blockade Tampico must not interfere with American commercial vessels. Although official silence has been maintained with reference to the blockade, there is every reason to believe that Admiral Magruder has wide discretionary powers. With the cruiser Tampa, six destroyers, and the repair ship Thompsons joining the Richmond from Canal Zone waters, however, the rebel demonstration is regarded as being in itself sufficiently impressive to make unlikely any display of force against an American merchant man.

KENTUCKY MAN HELD FOR MURDER OF WIDOW

HAMILTON, O., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—This police today planned to question further James F. Anderson, 36, who is held on a charge of shooting to death Mrs. Cleona Collins, 35, a widow, last night. He fired point blank at her seven times, police say, five bullets taking effect in her head. The police, in lieu of a confession, worked on a theory that Anderson was a rejected suitor. No quarrel preceded the shooting. Anderson and Mrs. Collins having just left the restaurant where they had refreshments with two friends. All had planned to attend church services here within an hour. Anderson came here one year ago from Jackson county, Kentucky. Two of his three brothers are ministers, Rev. John Anderson, Oakland, Calif., and Rev. Bilge Anderson, Tyner, Ky.

Fail to Keep Books Out of Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press)—The Supreme Court reversed today the decision of the lower court in the case brought by the chief attorney of New York County against Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, who did business as E. M. Fuller and Company. The Fuller Company had turned its papers and books over to a receiver in bankruptcy, but in the lower courts had succeeded in keeping them out of the hands of Federal and state prosecuting officers on the plea that the documents might incriminate them.

ANOTHER COLD SNAP ON HEELS OF THIS ONE

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—With below zero temperatures from the northwest to as far as western New York with moderate to heavy snow from the northwest, a heavy cold wave is advancing southward from Alaska, according to weather bureau reports. It was twenty above at Harro, Mont., this morning, after four below zero last night, but the new cold wave from Alaska is said to reach the northwestern states in a day or two. White River, Ont., was the coldest point on the weather map with fifty eight below zero last night.

COLUMBUS, O., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Ohio's second severe cold snap in a little more than two weeks, which carried temperatures well below zero in most sections last night, may be expected to continue until tomorrow, when the thermometer will begin a slow upward movement. Weather bureau officials made this prediction this morning after announcing that temperature readings during the night had ranged from two degrees below zero at Cincinnati, to six below at Cleveland and Toledo. While tomorrow should bring a break in the cold snap, it was said, it probably will be several days before the weather again becomes normal. Five or ten degrees probably will be the maximum increase in temperature tomorrow.

The cold wave which spread over the state yesterday and last night, was caused by a high pressure area carried rapidly eastward by high winds, the weather man announced. It followed on the heels of the area of low temperatures which last Thursday was headed for Ohio but which was dissipated before it reached the state.

Livestock Shippers To Receive Refund

COLUMBUS, O., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Ohio co-operative livestock shippers will soon receive the first refund from the cooperative commission firms which they have established at terminals where their livestock is marketed, according to an announcement today by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. The refund announced amounts to 22 per cent of the money paid into the firm in commissions and other charges, this figure representing about $4 per car on cars loaded during the first 14 months of the operation of the firm. This money will be returned to livestock producers of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, who have used the Buffalo firm in co-operative marketing of their livestock, the announcement said.

CARPET TACK TAKEN FROM BABE'S LUNG

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Cletus Moore, a St. Louis baby, from whose lung a steel carpet tack three-quarters of an inch long was removed yesterday at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, after a hurried railroad trip to this city, was reported today as well on the road to recovery. The baby is expected to be well enough to be taken home in a few days. The tack which was at the bottom of the left lung, was lifted out through a tube known as the bronchoscope, without injury to the membranes. The tube was inserted in the child's mouth. No anesthetic was given and a minutes after the operation the little fellow fell asleep and slept soundly for several hours. He awoke hungry and took his bottle regularly through the night. He swallowed the tack about a month ago.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY MAY HOLD BALANCE OF POWER IN 1924 CAMPAIGN

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1924.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—While the Republicans and Democrats have made plans for their national conventions at Cleveland and New York respectively next June, another group, known as the farmer-labor party is working just as feverishly in preparation for a national convention at St. Paul, or Minneapolis on May 30 which may have an important bearing on the outcome of the whole 1924 campaign.

In a close fight, the farmer-labor party would hold the balance of power in the electoral college. Already this party has virtually wiped the Democratic party out of Minnesota, sending two men to the U. S. Senate in a victory over the regular Republican nominees. The insurgency which today is upsetting the customs and practices of the House of Representatives shows the signs of doing the same thing in the Senate. The farmer-labor party has developed its greatest strength.

Mr. J. A. H. Hopkins, executive chairman of the famous Committee of Forty Eight, which has been endeavoring for years to put a third party into the political race, has just concluded a series of conferences here.

"A new factor has been introduced into the general political situation," he said to the writer in a special interview today, "by the calling of the Farmer-Labor-Progressive convention in either St. Paul or Minneapolis. This convention is the result of conferences recently held in Chicago, St. Paul and Omaha, at which representatives of various farm, labor and progressive organizations agreed to unite politically for the 1924 campaign."

"In addition to the Committee of Forty Eight, at whose initiative these conferences were called, officials representing the new party movement in Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Idaho, Pennsylvania, New York, South Dakota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, California, Iowa, Delaware and New Jersey, pledged themselves in writing to cooperate with all progressives who had determined to abolish special privilege, in the calling of a national convention at either St. Paul or Minneapolis on May 30 for the purpose of nominating presidential and vice presidential candidates." They also signed a (Continued On Page Two)

William H. Anderson To Go On Trial
NEW YORK, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The trial of William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, on one of five indictments charging extortion, grand larceny and forgery, was on the calendar today before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins. The prosecution chose the indictment charging forgery to be specifically tried. It is based, as are the other indictments, on charges by O. Bertsall Phillips, a former league collector, that Anderson compelled him to "split" his collection commissions with him. Anderson is accused of having falsified the league's accounts in transferring $4,400 from Phillips' commission account to the collector's expense account. The indictment charges that Anderson pocketed the $4,400 as half of the collection commissions paid to Phillips.

Walton Loses In High Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press)—The Supreme Court today declined to permit former Governor John C. Walton, of Oklahoma, to bring up for review direct from the legislature the impeachment proceedings which resulted in his removal from office. The case which the court acted upon was distinct from another recently appealed from a decision of the Federal District for Western Oklahoma, but it may have controlling effect upon the entire proceedings.

Contending that his trial before the Oklahoma Senate was judicial in character, the former governor had insisted that he had the right of appeal to the courts for a review, but the Federal District Court for Western Oklahoma held that the controversy was strictly political and refused to take jurisdiction.

Poultry Business Booms In Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—The poultry business is booming in Ohio. Figures obtained from 469 Ohio farms by C. J. West, of the State Federal Crop Reporting Service, show a decided increase in the farm flocks of chickens in the state. The 469 farms report an average of 120 hens to a farm as compared with 77 hens per farm last year. The increase this year amounts to approximately 20 per cent. As a result of this increase in the raising of poultry in Ohio, West points out, the egg market of the state is improving considerably. Mrs. Emma Hicks, Milo, a widow, was found by police in front of a small gas heater in her home. She had been dead for at least three days, said Coroner D. C. Handley.

Ladder Breaks Throwing Men Into Oil Tank

PITTSBURGH, PA., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Seven men were drowned in oil, two captains and five firemen of the Pittsburgh fire department, while fighting a fire at the Butler street plant of the Atlantic Refining Company today. The bodies were recovered after the fire had been brought under control, with the monetary loss unestimated. The dead are: Captain Edward Jones, Captain Rudolph Blisko, Hoseman Harry J. Frazier, Hosemen Patrick Abbott and Robert Smith, John Markham and Samuel Bollinger. A number of firemen also were injured.

The fire broke out in a tank containing 1,000 gallons of oil shortly after 5 o'clock. Seven companies answered the alarm and fire lines were thrown out for four or five city blocks on each side of the refinery, which adjoins a residence district and has been the scene of a number of costly blazes. Many families deserted their homes and additional fire apparatus was summoned as the morning wore on.

On Ladder Fighting Fire Shortly before nine o'clock the captains and their men were on a ladder which extended above the top of a tank adjoining the burning oil. The oil in this tank was being drawn off when the ladder broke and the men fell into the tank. A chemical extinguisher automatically released by the heat of the burning oil nearby, the authorities said, covered the oil and flames arising from it, but it was believed to have overcome the struggling firemen. They sank almost at once and the bodies later were recovered through the man hole at the bottom of the tank. The other firemen suffered severely because the mercury was two degrees below zero as they fought the flames. All of the injured were firemen who fell from the tops of the tanks to which they had climbed. The cause of the fire has not been determined by officials of the company, nor would they venture an estimate of the loss which consisted of two buildings and a considerable quantity of oil.

COOLIDGE IGNORES REQUEST OF WETS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(By Associated Press)—A request from delegates to the face-the-facts convention of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment for modification of the prohibition law was met by President Coolidge with a declaration, that he stood for "law enforcement," that he stood for "law enforcement."

At the conclusion of the opening session of their convention, the delegates called at the White House and presented through Senator Bayard, of Delaware, and Archibald Hopkins, chairman of the association's executive committee, a memorial declaring their stand "absolutely for law and order," for "the impartial execution of law as the prerogative of the citizen's liberty," and for modification of the existing dry laws.

The President, in reply, ignored the request for modification, expressed his gratification that the association stood for law and order, and announced his determination to enforce the laws in accordance with his oath of office. His remarks were made privately to the delegates and were not made public. (Continued on Page Eleven)

PRESIDENT ADDS TWO NEW PLANKS TO HIS PLATFORM OF ECONOMY

WASHINGTON, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge added two new planks to the administration's platform of government economy today in an address at the semi-annual meeting of Federal executive officers, comprising the business organization of the government. He will permit no expansion hereafter of the system of Federal subsidies to state governments and will counter-ance no incurring of obligations by Federal agencies in excess of their annual appropriations except in extreme circumstances. The president, who with Director Lord of the Budget Bureau, reviewed the administration's management of the government's affairs since the meeting last June, touched only lightly on the subject of tax reduction pointing merely to the relationship existing between economy in Federal expenditures and the resultant decrease in revenues required. He told the thousands or more officials that to increase the tax burden was to disregard the general welfare, and held up tax reduction as the means of enlarging "the reward of every one who toils."

No Deviation From Economy "There can be no deviation from the economic program," he asserted, and he called upon all spending agencies of the government to increase their efficiency and curb the outgo at every turn. "The budget law has a success," he (Continued on Page Eight)

WASHINGTON, January 21.—(By the United Press)—All matters of detail in connection with the $100,000 peace plan were left in the hands of a woman employee, Edward W. Bok, director of the award to a state committee, charged with investigating propaganda designed to influence the action of congress and the government's foreign policy.

The unknown woman was Miss Esther Everett Lake, chairman of the policy committee of the peace award. "I told Miss Lake not to bother me (Continued on Page Eight)"

RAILROAD ENGINEERS IN BRITAIN WALK OUT

LONDON, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—A statement issued early this morning at the headquarters of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, which last night called a strike of the railways of Great Britain, said the men were "coming out solidly and standing together splendidly."

Press telegrams suggested that this assertion was likely to prove not far from the truth. Apparently some traffic was moved after midnight, but in time made it seemed the strike call would be obeyed by a great majority of the organization's 50,000 members.

The success of a limited service depends on the loyalty of those locomotive men who belong to the National Union of Railway Men among whose 320,000 members, it is said, are about twenty or thirty thousand engineers. Neither this Union nor the Railway Clerks' organization is supporting the strike but there were signs that many engineers and firemen in the National Union of Railway Men would cooperate with their striking fellows in the other organization.

The engineers said the strike must be of short duration, but J. Bromley, secretary of the Associated Society of Firemen and Engineers, expressed the conviction that the strike could hold up 80 per cent of the traffic of the country for a fortnight.

The strike was ordered after the engineers had voted overwhelmingly against accepting a wage readjustment decided upon by the railway wage board. The men contended that the reductions authorized were out of all proportion to the cost of living.

McAdoo Forces To Oppose It

NEW YORK, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Attempts to bring about the restoration of unit rule for the New York delegation to the Democratic National Convention will be opposed by the McAdoo forces in the state according to David Hunter Miller, state campaign manager for William G. McAdoo.

Referring to a bill introduced in the legislature by Albany Senator Twombly, and Assemblyman Gavanan, Democrats, providing that a state convention might require the delegates to a National Convention to vote as a unit, Mr. Miller declared in a statement today, that such a rule would be "undemocratic and reactionary" and that it would violate the spirit of the Democratic state platform which declared for direct primaries.

Mr. Miller said that Governor Smith would undoubtedly get the solid vote of the New York delegation so long as he remained a candidate for the presidency. Miller declared, however, that the delegates should be free to vote for any individual candidate should Smith withdraw, rather than permit the vote of the state to be cast solidly by Charles P. Murphy, Tammany Chairman for any candidate the majority of the delegation might desire.

Billy Butt-In

NEW YORK, January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Payment by the Mexican Petroleum Company of $100,000 to Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the Mexican revolution, to prevent him from carrying out a threat to destroy the company's property at Tampico, hinges upon capture of the Mexican port by the revolutionary faction, according to H. G. Wylie, vice president of the company.

Mr. Wylie declared that the threat to destroy the property unless an advance in export oil taxes was paid to the revolutionists was received about ten days ago. Representatives of the company who had taken up the demand with the State Department in Washington, he said, had been advised to protect the Tampico property by complying with the demand in the event that de la Huerta gained control of the port. Mr. Wylie made it clear that no payment would be made unless the revolutionists actually seized the property and indicated their intention to carry out their threat.

The company's supply in this country is ample for at least three months, he said.

Now that the public's got the old-fashioned kind of winter weather they've been clamoring for, they're kicking because they didn't know about it in advance and have time to discuss it. Here's some gas bill savin' dope: OHIO—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Continued cold tonight. Warmer Tuesday. KENTUCKY—Fair tonight and Tuesday. Warmer Tuesday. The extremes in local temperature today were: High, 28; low, one above zero.

Farmer-Labor

joint pledge designating as the platform upon which this convention should be based:

Their Platform:

"(a) Public ownership of railroads;

"(b) Control of money and credit by the people through government and cooperating banks;

"(c) Public control of natural resources;

"(d) Preservation of civil rights guaranteed by the constitution;

"(e) Prevention of judicial abuses.

"It was furthermore provided that all agricultural, industrial, political, or commercial organizations, parties, or groups, would be entitled to send voting delegates to this convention, and a special provision was made for unorganized groups of 25 or more signers for similar representation.

"While the signers of these pledges are unalterably committed to the new party movement they gave ample evidence of their broadmindedness in relations to organizations, economic or otherwise, that might agree with them in principle but differ with them in practice, by extending a cordial invitation to all progressive organizations, parties or non parties, which are in accordance with the principles herein set forth, to cooperate with us and have a voice through representatives of their own choosing in the nomination and election of such candidates, either by endorsement or otherwise.

"While many of these signing these agreements have their own individual opinions in relation to candidates, it was specifically agreed that every candidate, and only such candidates as pledged themselves to the platform above mentioned, should be eligible for nomination and that subject to this provision whoever was nominated would receive the united support of all the organizations subscribing to the convention call.

Convention To Be Unique.

"It will be observed that the national farmer-labor progressive convention is unique in respect to the fact that it is neither a cut and dried affair in respect to procedure and candidates, nor is it simply a coming together of well intentioned individuals who may or may not agree in principle and purpose. On the contrary, and for the first time in our history, a National convention has been called of those who have already agreed as to their views and aims in formulating the platform upon which their presidential, senatorial and congressional candidates will be nominated; with the further provision that every candidate must be definitely committed to this platform in order to be eligible for nomination.

"Furthermore, the insistent demand for the uniting of the progressive forces which have been struggling for expression in various separated sections of the country have been met, and these forces have been actually united not only in spirit, but in fact. These are the distinctive features of the convention which will meet in the twin cities on May 30.

"Whether the candidates nominated at that convention will be chosen from those already holding political office, or whether candidates will be nominated who have never held any such office depends very largely upon whether or not the progressive senators and congressmen who have been urging this movement on and emphasizing the necessity for a new party will, prior to May 30, say openly and in public what they have repeatedly stated in private. Should they do so it is highly probable that the national farmer-labor progressive convention will select its candidates from among the ranks of those who have the courage and vision to break away from their old party association. There is, however, eligible material in and out of Congress from which to choose, and it would not be at all surprising to find that the nomination of candidates who have never held public office would furnish a refreshing innovation that would meet a ready response from the progressive voters at large.

Mr. Hopkins did not discuss individuals. Obviously enough, however, this group does not include Senator Hiram Johnson in the list of eligible progressives as he is campaigning for the regular Republican nomination. Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, is the acknowledged leader of the Farmer-Labor Progressive element and the nomination will go to him in all probability unless ill health or personal reasons should influence him to decline a nomination.

Warrant Cancelled; Machinist Permitted to Stay in U. S. A.

About the happiest man in Portsmouth right now is Stephen Schnabl, 24 years old, native of Germany, and there is no denying the fact that he has just cause to be happy.

Last August Schnabl left his native land as a member of the crew of a German liner bound for America and when the ship docked at New York he obtained a leave of absence for a couple of days. While roaming about the big city Schnabl decided in his face by an employment agent who sent him to Portsmouth to work at his trade of machinist. As a consequence Schnabl was not on hand when the ship sailed on its return voyage and his absence was reported to the government authorities.

Then started a still hunt by government agents for the missing German and which finally resulted in his arrest in this city on December 16, last, on a charge of violation of the immigration laws by entering this country without authority.

The alien was lodged in jail and the dark side of the picture was visible—he faced deportation.

Then friends he had made since coming here went to his rescue and secured his release on bond pending disposal of his case by the Secretary of Labor.

In the meantime Schnabl returned to his work as machinist at the N. and W. shops and was fearful of the decision in his case lest it be against him which meant his leaving America.

Instead of bad tidings it was good news that he received Saturday when he was advised in a communication from Washington, D. C., that the outstanding warrant for his arrest had been cancelled and for the bond under which he has been at liberty since December 20, released, and his residence in the United States legalized.

Schnabl, who is a clever musician, has won many friends here by his sunny disposition and they are busy congratulating him on his good fortune. He is already planning to bring his wife and child from Germany to Portsmouth within the near future.

Hornsby Will Play With The Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—The hot stove league has lost one of its favorite subjects, sale or trade of Rogers Hornsby, leading batter of the National League, by the St. Louis club. Rogers himself balked the trade talk last night with the statement that he would be with the Cardinals this year and that he would strive to the utmost to play the game to the best of his ability.

He said the breach between President Brendan and Manager Riskey of the Cardinals and himself is just as wide as when he was suspended last September after reports of a fight between him and Riskey.

Hornsby said that he would train with the club at Bradenton, Fla., although two months ago he said he would play with the club but would not report for spring training.

New York Physician Perfects Harmless Method of Reducing Weight

The loss of as much as a pound of excess flesh a day with no harmful results is the record made by many patients of Dr. H. Newman, a licensed practicing physician of 250 Fifth Avenue, New York, who announces that he has perfected a treatment which has quickly rid fat people of excess weight. What is more remarkable is the Doctor's statement that he has successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction without change of diet or unnecessary exercise. It is also said that fat people who suffer from chronic rheumatism, gout, asthma and high blood pressure obtain great relief from the reduction of their superfluous flesh. Realizing that this sounds almost too good to be true, the Doctor has offered to send without charge to anyone who will write him, a free trial treatment to prove his claims, as well as his "Pay-when-relieved" plan. Maybe You Have The Wrong Idea

Some people think that we are trying to serve only those who are planning homes.

That's not correct.

We ask everybody to invest savings here who wants a safe and good paying service.

Fact is, we need several savers to furnish the funds for each borrower.

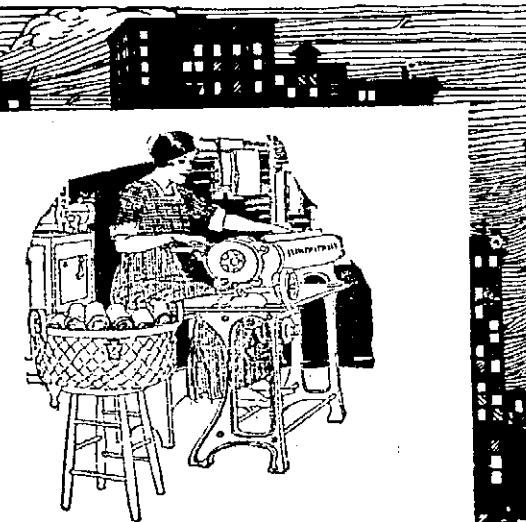

And every man gets well paid for the use of his money.

Furthermore, all funds are safeguarded by the finest kind of first mortgages on improved real estate.

So remember, please, we would like to have you with us, even if you don't want a home. Perhaps you already have a home.

HAS FEVER

Orville Atkins of 1121 Front street, is ill with fever.

WASHINGTON, January 21.—(Special)—President Coolidge may have made his first political error in making it known through his spokesman that he would probably veto any tax reduction bill not embodying the principal features of the Mellon plan, in the opinion of certain political leaders here.

It is now apparent that the President will not have an opportunity to sign a revenue measure carrying Secretary Mellon's recommendations. The bill which finally reaches the White House for his signature or veto may be quite different from the "original Mellon plan" as it went to the House Ways and Means committee.

Proponent Republicans admit that the seasoned Democratic veterans of the Ways and Means committee, Messrs. Garner, Hines and Hull, have outmaneuvered their Republican committee mates and are on the verge of getting a bill reported to the House which will look more like the Garner plan of tax reduction than that fostered by the Secretary of the Treasury, even though it will be called a "compromise" measure.

If such a bill passes both Houses, sustaining still further alterations as it goes, President Coolidge may find himself between two fires. He will be confronted on the one hand with his supposed declaration that he would only sign a bill substantially like the Mellon plan, and would veto any other, while the alleged plan will be a "compromise" that that party really reserves credit for the tax bill in case the President signs it.

Ohio members of the House have resented themselves to the support of a "compromise" measure. Some of them are enlisting stronger for the compromise than they could have been for a Mellon plan. Still, even though they received hundreds of letters endorsing the latter.

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, Republican floor leader, predicted some time ago that a "compromise" bill was a certainty, and Representative Chas. C. Kearns of Baltimore, Ohio member of the Ways and Means committee, will concur in such a bill and urge its passage on the floor.

Representative James T. Bogg of Kentucky, is another prominent Ohio Republican who is perfectly willing that the revenue bill should carry recommendations agreeable to both sides of the House, instead of being "strictly Mellon."

Ohio Democrats are smiling broadly over the reported victory of the men who represent their party on the Ways and Means committee. Congressman Martin L. Duvey has picked alleged flaws in the Mellon plan from the time of its first representation and has discussed them in a series of letters to the Treasury department.

Members of both parties are now asking how President Coolidge can refuse to sign the tax reduction bill if members of his party in both Houses vote for it and still remain the leading presidential candidate of his party. Most of them maintain such a thing is impossible. The feeling has been expressed in many quarters that the demand of the country for tax reduction is non-partisan after all, and comes from members of both parties.

In any event, Democrats feel that at last they "have something on" the President and are now making ready to twist him on the tax bill, no matter what he does about it.

THE STOLEN BABY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
A novelist, seeking nocturnal adventure, waits for a taxi in the Paddington Recreation Ground, London. He notices a girl who seems to be waiting for the midnight omnibus and offers to give her a lift in his taxi and the girl accepts his offer. She informs him that her sister is sick in a hospital and that she is on her way to fetch her sister's baby from her sister's home to hers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
I had altogether lost track of her. After a moment, a policeman who was standing by a gate, considered me with a suspicious air. I had raveled my hair, so that it stood on end. The policeman was still watching me with interest. It was obvious that I could not stay in the middle of the road like this unless I wanted him to think me drunk. For a moment I thought I would tell him about the coronet. But what could a policeman say if a hatless man, in the middle of the road, told him that a girl who wasn't there had got hold of a baby with a coronet on its clothes, a baby that wasn't there either? He'd be certain to think me drunk. So, attempting all the dignity a man can achieve when he has lost his hat, I walked away to Elgin Avenue, pretending to be busy.

I got home somehow, a little later, unfortunately in another taxi, so that I did not recover my hat. I had a cold bath, as a result of which I felt much better, and more confused when I got into bed. All the little incidents of that night crowded upon me: the girl's confused references to her father and her stepmother, the fact that she was living alone and yet took her sister's baby to live with her when she could leave it where she had found it, the obvious commonness of her voice, and its contrast with the baby's beautiful clothing, her nervous excitement, her state almost of palsy, as if she had been frightened, or was hunted, when she came back with the child, her rapid flight, the blackness in which she had taken me, the blackness into which she had vanished.

all this combined. By degrees it piled up into a certainty that my wanderer of the night had stolen a child, and that I had assisted her. Then my confused state of mind became complicated by the realization that babies with coronets on their clothes are not generally found in houses on Gulf Street. I saw myself in the middle of a burlesque rather than a melodrama. But the baby had a coronet on its clothes. Perhaps it had been stolen that day, and I had seen the person to afford it deeper concealment. Then I remembered my hat, and horror fell over me like a muffled sheet. What was going to happen? If that baby was important, a hunt would take place. Probably the taxi man would read in the papers an account of the girl from Gulf Street. He would remember her the girl, the baby, and me. And my hat, within the hour, bore my name and address. How was I going to explain that I was not accessory to the crime? I had visions of a prosecution of myself. If not asked to jail, at least socially compromised. There was no question of sleep now. I turned about and about upon my burning bed, at one moment a criminal, at another an outcast. I even had a beautiful serene mood when I saw myself going to the police station and offering myself up. And I comforted myself for having been such a fool and left my hat behind. Several times I resolved in future to go to bed at half past ten. But all this, at half past five, completely exhausted. I got up, dressed, out of habit shaved, thrusting away the idea of cutting my throat. I did not at all know what I wanted to do. I simply wanted to get out and think.

I went out into the cool morning that was golden and radiant with summer. The streets were white and lovely, as they are at that hour. I walked through the pretty desert of Mayfair into the park, where for a while I sat on a bench. But I was too restless and after a while went on. Besides, I don't know how it happened, but the room felt cold; I had not experienced coldness anywhere for a week. How, in the midst of these stupor, in this temple of respectability, I was going to explain that the shroud had been violated in the night, I really did not know. At last, forcing my palsied tongue, I told my story hurriedly and with complete incoherence, while the matron kept upon me an observant, appraising eye. Her glance said: "Mental case. Not dangerous." When I had finished she read my story to me in an incredulous tone: "So far as I understand, you tell me that last night you, in company with a young woman, abstracted an infant from this establishment."

"Yes."

"You tell me that the young woman went upstairs after having exchanged some remarks with a person."

"I didn't say she exchanged remarks. I said that I thought I saw."

"Pardon me. You saw, or you did not see. Which was it?"

"I think I saw."

"Very well. We will omit that fact for the moment. You then say that the young person came out, carrying an infant which she had not brought into the establishment. Do I understand you rightly?"

"Quite."

"And what, may I ask, were your motives in assisting in this apparently disgraceful proceeding?"

"Well, you see, I was standing outside the Chippendham."

"What is the Chippendham?"

"A little house."

"I understand. Yes. Please proceed. You say that as you were coming out of a public house."

"I was not coming out of a public house. Besides, it was after closing time."

"I am not aware of closing time. Please proceed."

"The girl was in a great state of excitement, and told me she had to fetch a baby for her sister and that."

"You have told me all this before, but your motives are still obscure. Mr. . . ."

"Oh, never mind my motives. I expect I was a fool. But what I want you to understand is that a baby has been kidnapped from this place and that I want to make sure that it's all right."

the home. I was standing before the back door. Well, I had come so far; I had better face the trouble. Perhaps it was too late to repair what I had done. So I mounted the steps, and with a trembling hand rang the bell.

Though it was so early, the door was opened by a parlor-maid, already magnificent in ruffled cap and frilled apron. Vaguely I noted the size and appalling ugliness of the furniture of the hall; the fame of Mrs. Gold's Nursing Home extended back to the youth of Queen Victoria; it maintained its traditions.

"Can I see Mrs. Gold?" I said.

"Mrs. Gold?" said the parlor-maid, in a tone of amazement.

"Yes. It's very important."

"You want to see Mrs. Gold, sir?" repeated the parlor-maid, this time conveying that I wished to see the Empress of China. "I'm afraid that's impossible, sir."

"But I tell you I must see her. It's very important; it's very urgent."

"I'm sorry, sir. But the chairman, I mean Mrs. Gold, can be seen only every other Friday, between three and four. Perhaps you would like to see the matron, sir?"

"Yes, yes. I'll see anybody you like who's in charge."

"WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?" SAID THE LOFTY CREATURE.

I was ushered into a small room entirely filled with large tables, sideboards and armchairs, 1840 style, papered in 1840, expensively, and heavily repapered since. There I waited for an awful quarter of an hour, at the end of which a page, covered with buttons, took me to another room, where, behind a colossal desk, sat an equally colossal woman, upholstered in black silk, and hung with the kind of gold chain that provincial mayors affect.

"What can I do for you?" said the lofty creature.

"Well, you see . . ."

"One moment. May I ask your name?"

I gave it, and began again, but was interrupted: "One moment. Your address, if you please. Thank you." She joined her finger tips. "Well, what can I do for you?"

I was silent for a moment; the dimensions of the scenery daunted me; besides, I don't know how it happened, but the room felt cold; I had not experienced coldness anywhere for a week. How, in the midst of these stupor, in this temple of respectability, I was going to explain that the shroud had been violated in the night, I really did not know. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand. S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold in all good drug stores. The large bottle is more economical.

JACKSON CO. ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE
JACKSON, Jan. 21.—The roads leading into Jackson are nearly all in very good condition, in spite of an exceedingly unfavorable season because of the excess rain. The Chillicothe pike is one all the way to Columbus, except when the State gets out of its banks and covers the road. The Berlin pike into Wellston is as good as any road in the state and leads away on beyond Meathurst.

but nothing which need alarm any one. The Kerstone pike is also said to be all right to the county line.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—I am married and loved. Since then have met my ideal. Now I know I never was in love. But I intend with the help of God to do my duty, knowing this ideal of mine has made me long to be better. Although at times I think I can't live without this companion. But ideal makes me stronger in the way of doing my duty. No one can help the likes and dislikes that come into the heart. Now don't tell me to go to another town, for that would make my heart ache worse. I never can forget. I'll always have that one desire in my heart—longing for this companion. With the one you love, one could be happy in a heart just for two. Please give me your opinion on a case like mine. Not at all, for I know what is right. I say, this to all young people thinking of marriage: Be sure that the one you marry is your ideal, and you love them best of all. And your love will stand the test of marriage through life.

WEST VIRGINIA READER.
In the first place, I don't mind telling you that you are fickle, and in the second place that you have the word "ideal" on the brain. Since you do not specify whether you are a man or woman, I will have to deal with you accordingly. I am glad you have some sense enough to know what is right, and that you are going to stick to it, person you have taken for better or worse, regardless of this temporary longing for your "ideal." The feeling you have for this would-be companion is not love at all. It is nothing but fascination. When you married, you said you thought you loved, and you were happy. Now you think you are again, and would be happier with this supposed ideal. If you were mistaken the first time, don't you think it possible to be mistaken again? If you had a chance to marry this person, you would be happy only until you saw some other person who measured up to your ideals. If you had the chance, and would give yourself away, I think your life would be one of woe. You would be as soon as one would be, you would be another person whom you thought you loved. Really, I don't think you know the meaning of love, and there is no use making your life miserable in trying to figure out the meaning of all your little heart flutters. Why don't you get down to business and try to make the companion you have happy?

Dear Dolly—I am a man 25 years of age and I have people, but I haven't seen any of them since the war. Will you please tell me how I can find them?

A WORRIED MAN.
I would be like trying to find a needle in a haystack to try to find your people when I have no idea where to look for them. If you will tell me where they were when you last heard from them, or where you have been since the war, I may be able to give you some information about how to find them.

Dear Dolly—A certain man died and left no will and an administrator was appointed, but there must be something wrong as only one relative got the money. There are other relatives entitled to their share but they can't find out what became of the money. They know there was some left after all his debts were paid. Now Dolly, will you please advise me what steps to take to find out just who got this money and why the other heirs did not get something or at least an itemized statement of what happened to it?

If the man died in Portsmouth and the estate was administered through the local courts you can find out all about it by consulting Probate Judge S. B. Gilliland at the Court House. An administrator is required to give an account to the court of the amount of the estate and how it was administered. If it is up to you to see that the court gives it to you.

Dear Miss Wise—I have a son 16 years of age who married a woman of 27. Do you think they could have a child because now if they are not quarreling they are fighting. Now Dolly, what would you do if you were in my place and how could I find out if they are doing him or not.

A WORRIED MOTHER.
A sixteen year old boy could not get married without the consent of his parents, and if that woman prevailed upon him to marry her, somebody can be arrested for perjury. You could also have their marriage annulled. They certainly must be "doped" or they have lost all sense of reason, if they ever had any to lose.

Huntington, W. Va.—Dear Dolly—I am in love with a tall, dark haired man about one year my senior. He is a very good looking and all the girls are crazy about him, but he cares very little about the girls. He has asked me lots of time to let him take me to parties and I have accepted, but he has never asked me for a date to come and spend the evening. How can I win his affections?

BROKEN HEARTED.
Just let things drift along as they have been for awhile, and he may "warm up to you" ere long. If you appear over-anxious, or crazy about him you may spoil everything. Of course if you have any Leap Year parties, it would be all right to invite him, since he has taken you to several parties.

WOMAN'S LURE

WHAT qualities of womanhood are most attractive to men? A reader, asking this question, says in his letter to the editor: "I gather from movies and fiction and news stories, that the most admirable traits or qualities in a man are bravery, brains, honor and loyalty. Please write about the most desirable characteristics of a woman. What must she possess to be an ideal sweetheart and wife?"

Every woman gives a lot of thought to this problem. The great philosophers have pondered it.

Pooling authorities: The most attractive and desirable qualities in a woman are modesty, love, beauty, loyalty, poise, reserve, companionship, personal magnetism—and mystery.

Men, courting women for their future wives and mothers of their children, instinctively seek, first of all, love, modesty, companionship and loyalty.

Beauty is the biological lure. But isn't its influence usually over-rated? Consider the multitude of men who are quite contented to pass up the beauties and marry women only moderately attractive.

Of course, for the homeliest woman in the world, there's some man who'll consider her the most attractive. Yes, love is blind.

Handsome men frequently marry homely women. Brilliant men often marry women with very little brains. Practical women marry impractical men. Beauties mate with commonplace males. Tall women with short husbands. Tall husbands with short wives. Good marriages bad. Small wonder, love baffles the philosophers.

In the last analysis, all this contradictory state of affairs is merely nature evening things up—restoring the balance between the sexes—preventing the race from veering too far from the normal or average of appearances, mentality, emotion and character.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Leppes: "Up and out to my banker and he being out, read a letter or so on his desk, a weakness I cannot overcome. Then to breakfast with Roy McCordell and we talked of Alfred Henry Lewis and other writers who are gone.

And Lord! How soon they are forgotten and how trivial are efforts at entering fame, it appearing to me that those who idle and dream through life get most out of it. So with Bill, the dog man, to the countryside to sit about a camp fire among the fir trees nearly all the day.

Back to the city in the late evening in a chilly wind and stopped at a hotel to see the skaters in Central Park and talked awhile to the old balloon woman whose face was emurped with cold.

In the evening to see the new Folies which I did not like, the girls being beautiful but the comedy of a low order. Between acts I chatted with Victor Herbert and told him I deemed his "March of the Toys" the dearest beautiful piece of music ever written and it is true and seemed to please him. So to bed.

It has been a damp and cold day and the mood is one of melancholy. Mingling with crowds where lights were brightest I tried to find a face alive with the joy of living. That is something one seldom sees in New York. There are instead only faces that seem to be state with indifference, more like nummies than what they were intended to be. The bright flame of life seems to have been quenched by sheer ennui. I could see only masks of weariness, eyes red and tired, complexions of greenish yellow and noses that are predatory. The lips of women appear instead of warm and smiling. The dash of coquetry among young girls is opaque. Young men are to all appearances world weary. Indeed it has been a depressing day.

Outside my hotel was the night watchman. Fate has handled him roughly. He seems to have been kicked into caricature. He came from a mill town in the middle west, and you get the impression he has known only soot by day and fire by night. His knuckles are bruised and dented and he went from milk to beer almost as soon as he could walk. Yet he is Irish and no matter what life has done to the Irish, somewhere there is to be found a chuckle. So I talked to Paddy. The crowds I had just left were the restless hordes of a city brood. A night watchman somehow gives you an idea of peaceful solitude. He, like the shepherd, is left alone many hours with stars. He offered no bright ray in an ugly day, however.

"It looks to me like Henry Ford for president," he said.

Not that Mr. Ford is not an estimable man and a genius. He might have gotten my vote had he consented to run. Still, I believe no subject is so depressing as politics—and on a depressing day the subject is well nigh intolerable.

One of the greatest optimists I know and a man of affairs in his particular line is afflicted now and then with a blue funk. At such times he goes to a vaudeville show. This has the effect of charming away all depression. The psychoanalysts aver depression is merely self-consciousness and is the realization of one's shortcomings. It strikes me as true. I am wondering just now how in the world I am going to finish out my allotted space today.

Perhaps as the vaudevillians say it is time "to snap into the dance." Here goes. Something light and frivolous. I see in the evening paper that one of the young society ladies of the town has said that in another five years every well-dressed man will wear a corset. Jeeves, the luggage! We are off to Patagonia.

FELLOWSHIP

I thank Thee for the endless life
That Thou hast promised me.
I from my home and kin and land
I go to follow Thee.
I thank Thee for the shining goal
That marks the distant day;
But much, dear Lord, for "in this time,"
Fellowship by the way.

The world to come I know not, Lord,
Save for Thy blessed face;
The "hundredfold" of human love
Is warm and present grace.
That far-off heaven comes close to me,
While pilgrim to Thy land,
In this dear comfort by the way—
To touch my brother's hand.
—Dorothy Firman.

That Kind Of Pocket
The word "thief" was on the blackboard, but Dick could not spell it. "Surely you know what that spells," exclaimed the teacher. "Now, suppose I put my hand into your pocket and took out a penny, what should I say?" "A conjurer," replied Dick.

Flavoring The Cake
"Susie," said the girl's mistress, "go and see if the cake's done. Stick a knife in it. It's done if the knife comes out clean."
Susie departed. Some minutes later she returned beaming.
"The knife comes out as clean as a whistle," she said, "so I stuck the rest of the knives in it, and the forks and spoons, too."—London Opinion.

On The Q. T.
A minister of a rural parish, motoring home one day after a round of visits, overtook a girl plodding along a country road carrying a heavy basket of provisions.
Recognizing her as a servant employed by a farmer living near his parsonage, he pulled up and offered her a lift. When he came to the lane leading to the farm he stopped to let her down and she said, "Oh, thank you, sir."
"Don't mention it," replied the minister.
The girl blushed prettily, hung her head, then looked up archly. "All right," she said, "mum's the word."

Falls Down Stairs; Dies

A broken neck sustained in a fall down a stairway in a hotel at Battle Creek, Mich., on last Tuesday night, caused the death of Louis McCarty, 40 years old, former resident of Portsmouth whose body arrived here Sunday night.

Mr. McCarty was a brother of the late Chief of Police W. T. McCarty who died about eight years ago. Funeral services were held in Greenlawn this afternoon at three o'clock. A sister, Mrs. W. G. Hancock of 1543 Sixth street, is dangerously ill and has not been told of the death.

Local relatives have not received details of the fatal accident. A member of the I. O. O. F. lodge at Battle Creek accompanied the remains to Portsmouth and brought word that a fall down a hotel stairway resulted in death. Mr. McCarty was prominent in I. O. O. F. work in Battle Creek where he was employed as a roller in a steel plant.

The accident victim left Portsmouth when a young man in his teens and for some years worked in a steel plant in Birmingham, Ala. From the south he went to Michigan. His last visit in Portsmouth was about 15 years ago.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Jeanne Jones of Los Angeles, Calif. and three brothers, Joseph, this city, Frank of Stanton, Ala. and Warren of Selma, Ala.

Hoffy called on his friend Cuthbert and observed that the latter had installed a bowl containing one goldfish. "Ah, you have a goldfish," he remarked.
"Yes," he replied. They smoked a while. Then Hoffy resumed the conversation.
"Does the gold fish know you?"
"I cannot tell," responded Cuthbert. "It makes no sounds, and its tail wagging seems to be for purposes of propulsion only."

Borrows Auto, Thief Steals It; Drives To West Side; Car Burns Up

A 1923 model Ford touring car owned by John Dwyer, Rhodes avenue, New Boston, was destroyed by fire on the Pond Creek road about 2 miles from Galena pike. Saturday night a short time after it had been stolen from near Seventh and Chillicothe streets. The machine had been parked near the Arcadia theatre by Attorney C. F. Higgins, who had borrowed the machine from Mr. Dwyer. Monday morning Mr. Dwyer on learning that the remains of a burned machine were on Pond Creek went to the scene and learned that it was his machine that had gone up in flames.

SAY ROAD IS ALMOST IMPASSABLE

Relative to the almost impassable condition of the Ohio river road west of Buena Vista Manager Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce has sent the following letter to the Adams County Commissioners at West Union:

My Dear Commissioners:
Those using our highway west going over the Ohio river road, through Adams and adjoining counties, appeal to the Chamber of Commerce for some relief on this stretch of roadways, that our trucks and autos may get through without being imbedded in the mud and the drivers threatened with arrest should they not hasten out of their inextricable position.
The conditions immediately west of Buena Vista are such that make travel impossible mostly, and those that do attempt subject themselves to damage to their equipment and great loss in time, not mentioning the anger and inconvenience occasioned by the extraordinary experience.

"I am not overlooking the great task that confronts you in your good roads problems and the difficulty you must experience in meeting demands made upon you in many other parts of the county, yet I must not lose sight of the good people who want the products from our merchants and the willingness of these to serve them quickly and efficiently, therefore our appeal for more better good roads, for which the expenditure of any sum of money brings a result far in excess of that for which public moneys can be used for any purpose."

Mabel Normand On The Stand

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., January 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Mabel Normand, film actress, looking none the worse for her recent operation for appendicitis, today failed to identify as hers the 25 calibre pistol with which Horace Greer, Miss Normand's chauffeur, shot Cowland S. Dimes, New York's night. Miss Normand was forty minutes on the stand at Greer's hearing today.

Mrs. Edith Burns, described as Miss Normand's housekeeper at the time of the shooting, failed to appear as a witness today and a bench warrant was issued for her arrest.

Mabel Normand, today appealed to various boards of censorship throughout the country to withhold judgment on her until they know the truth.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE URBANITE

BY BERTON BRALEY

SOME may find 'n' books

In running brooks

That shelter

The "flowing kind,"

But I find mine

Where crowds move better-shelter.

THE hum of bees,

The sighing trees

Are easy to please

The poet;

But I prefer

The noise and stir

Of urban ways—you know it

LET others dream

Of field and stream

And hills that gleam

With glamour.

Of birds that sing—

Give me the ring

And clang of steel and hammer.

THE rush of feet,

Upon the street,

The sounds that beat

Above it;

The "bitter strife

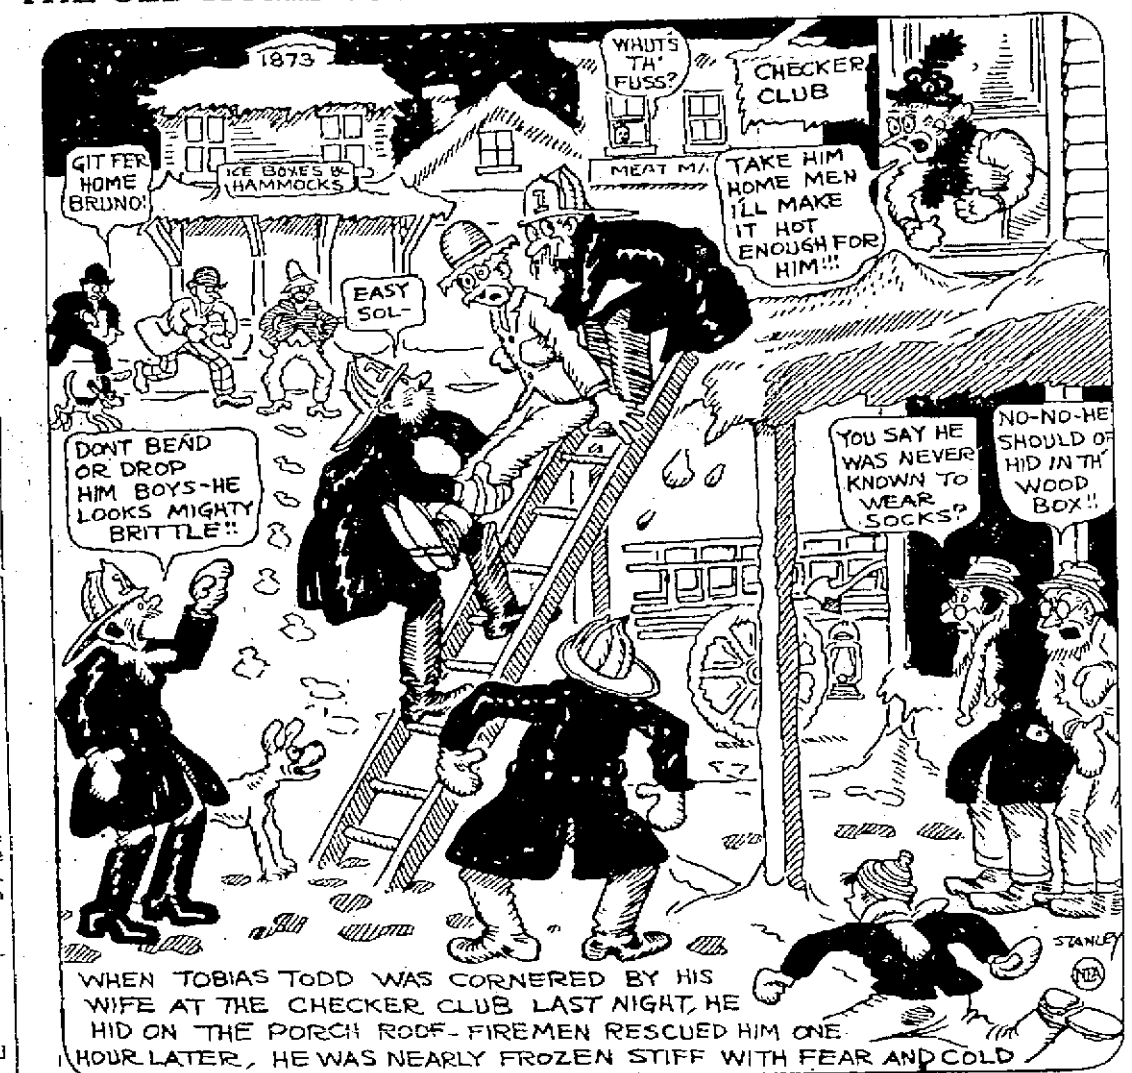

Of city life."

Believe you me, I love it!

Bok Hearing
With any matters of detail," Bok said. The investigation came to an abrupt halt today when Bok refused to tell the committee the size of a fund he had established to advertise his $100,000 peace plan.
After telling the committee he had paid every penny of the expense connected with his $100,000 peace award himself, Bok declined under pressure to tell the size of the total fund, or how much he has spent on the ground that it was a personal matter. Failing to move Bok, the committee adjourned this afternoon to determine on procedure to force Bok to answer. The committee planned to communicate with Bok's bank in New York to find out how much he had spent.
Senator Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, and Reed, Democrat, Missouri, both freeholders in the Versailles treaty fight, led in the questioning and as the hearing progressed, Mr. Bok himself showed a disposition to turn inquisitor. Some of the queries put to him went unanswered, as did some of those he fired at committee members.
Mr. Bok told the committee that he personally selected Elihu Root to serve on the jury which made the award, but that he did not approve of the other members because he was not asked to.
Mr. Bok said he did not know the name of the winner of his award.
He said he had "deducted every penny of the expenses of the award," adding that 7,000,000 copies of the prize plan had been printed for distribution.
Asked how much money was in the trust fund which he created to defray expenses of the award the witness replied:
"I prefer not to discuss that."
Senator Green, Republican, Vermont, asked if these might not be circumstances under which a fund would prove "something of a moral menace."
"No, not if rightly administered," was the reply.
Mr. Bok said he hoped to affect public opinion by his award, but declared he never had seen any literature issued by those in charge of the award urging persons to write to their senators and representatives in support of the prize peace plan.
"You probably are the only man in the United States who has not seen it," said Senator Reed.
The Missouri senator showed the witness several pieces of literature sent out by the award organization and other agencies. Among them was a copy of a ballot sent out in the national wide referendum.
"Did you vote?" asked Mr. Bok.
There was a laugh from the spectators, but the question went unanswered.
Senator Reed referred to much of the literature as "propaganda."
"What is your definition of propaganda?" asked Mr. Bok.
"Oh, I don't care to go into that," responded Senator Reed. "If you don't

1 ABOVE THIS A. M.

Portsmouth people Sunday and Monday shivered and shook in the throes of icy air from Alaska. The discomfort will be short-lived however, as the weatherman says it will be warmer Tuesday. The minimum reading today was 1 above zero. It was 14 above Sunday morning.

Straight from the province of polar bears and icebergs came an area of near zero weather Sunday and Monday. A high pressure area, starting somewhere in the arctic region, has been drifting across the continent from its point of entrance—Alaska—for three days. Twenty-eight below zero was reported at Duluth, Minn., at 7 a. m. Monday, this temperature being the coldest in the United States.

This is the second zero wave to enter Ohio this winter, weather officials stated last night. Two weeks ago yesterday a maximum of 4 below was registered here.

ASHLAND, Ky., Jan. 21.—Immediate start in the erection of the factory here of the George A. Mills Company, manufacturers of show cases and store equipment, was forecast Monday following the destruction by fire in Huntington Saturday afternoon of the company's factory.

The company's plant, located at Eighth avenue and Eighth street, was gutted and all stock, with a loss of approximately $20,000, practically covered by insurance. Leroy J. Taft of Ashland is secretary and treasurer of the company.

CLOTHES IGNITE; DAMAGE $50

The equipment from the Gallia and Seventh street fire stations responded to an alarm shortly after eight o'clock Monday morning to the home of F. Jenkins, 1018 Ninth street, to suppress a small blaze which started when clothing hanging behind the kitchen range ignited. Rev. Tillis Scores Lawlessness

Pastor W. Stewart Tillis of the First Baptist church, in his sermon last evening scored lawlessness in this city and pleaded with his people to give every ounce of their moral support to the officers of the law in the proper performance of their duties.

He suggested that if there is not money enough in the city treasury to hire more officers to help in this clean-up crusade that the money should be raised by popular subscription.

"The heads of the department are working day and night in an effort to stamp out the bootleggers and the police force is inadequate to do all the work that is necessary," Rev. Tillis said.

Pastor Tillis made an appeal to reverence the Law of God and to make the Bible the standard of faith and practice as men who will not reverence the Law of God will not reverence the laws of the U. S. A. He spoke of lawlessness as shown in the attitude of the lawless element as they are brought before courts of justice—the prisoners sneering and smiling at the law feeling as if they should be commended instead of sentenced.

THIS IS THE NIGHT OF THE ALL STAR BOXING SHOW IN WINTER GARDEN

All Boxers Are In Splendid Trim

Fight fans of this town prepare yourself for a real treat tonight in the Winter Garden. Matchmaker Harris has arranged 38 rounds of real boxing with the rapidly climbing Jimmy Fenwick of Huntington and the sturdy Babe Bright of Dayton as the headliners. Most of the fighters reached the city Sunday and are ready for the go. They say their mission here is to exhibit a brand of high class fistie wares. Fenwick will meet Bright in the main bout of 10 rounds. Eddie Grant of Dayton will meet the best boy possible. He is matched with Jimmy Fenwick of Huntington and the latter is unable to fulfill his contract owing to an injured hand. The George Alexander-Duncan Smith will be worth going in to see. They are scheduled to fight through eight rounds but it is doubtful if the bout which is doubtful. This bout should bristle with action all the way. Rudy Klipp of Muncie, Indiana, will meet Eddie Grant of Dayton in a six round bout and the latter will be between Fenwick and Fenwick in the last round. It is a classy card throughout and no doubt will be accorded liberal patronage as all the boys are well known and have the goods. Seats will be on sale at the Smoke House until 7:30 tonight. The doors of the Winter Garden will open at 7:20 and the first prelim will start at 8:15 with Eugene Hudley as the third man in the ring.

This Is Awful

Eight members of the Iowa State basketball squad were fined for dancing, having overstepped themselves, it seems.

BARKER BARKS

And now comes Kid Barker seeking fight honors with either Pernice Moore or Kid Reeves. He also includes Young Hubbard in his sweeping challenge. Barker may be reached between 9:30 and 5:30 by calling 2088-R.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE

GREENUP, Ky., January 21.—Mrs. Clara M. Heine and Mrs. Sarah Hoop have filed a friendly suit vs. Mrs. Jennie Dickey and husband, O. H. Dickey, of Portsmouth, to quiet the title of land. Attorneys for Plaintiff A. V. Pollock, of Greenup, and S. S. Willis, of Ashland.

Mack Figures On Landing His Team In First Division

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—The usually reticent Connie Mack is already making the prediction that he will finish in the first division. Mack figures there are four clubs that he should beat out the coming season, Boston, Washington, St. Louis and Chicago. He feels that New York, Detroit and Cleveland will again make the pace.

Connie is set on landing in fourth place and possibly higher. He feels that he has a chance to even pass Detroit and Cleveland. However, he regards the Yankees as a bit too topsy for his club and says that unless hurt by accident, the New York club should again repeat.

Mack is basing much of his hopes on the strength that Second Baseman Bishop, secured from Baltimore, and Outfielders Strand of Salt Lake and Simmons of Milwaukee will add.

Russel Fans are Coming

A whole flock of fight fans from Russell will motor to this city tonight to root for Duane Smith against Alexander. They believe their favorite due to take the scalp of George and tonight's battle will tell. Alexander has been working out with Frankie Susnell and is in great trim.

P. H. S. Will Play In Ironton Friday

The Portsmouth high boys' first game away from home Friday night when the Red and Blue representatives journey to Ironton to meet Coach Davies' crew. I. H. S. won from Ashland 15 to 14 and P. H. S. won over Ashland 27 to 13. That does give P. H. S. an edge on the Ironton outfit but when the strange floor is considered they will be battling on about even terms. P. H. S. has annexed four victories in four games on the road this season. Ironton boys play in the P. H. S. gym February 22.

Olive Hill Man To Succeed Levi

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 21.—Governor Fields today announced the appointment of R. T. Kountz of Olive Hill to succeed Levi R. Lott of Ashland, a member of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Susnell To Take Part In Main Go

Frankie Susnell, who has located here will be one of the main heavyweights in the next show the River City Athletic Club will stage in Portsmouth. Matchmaker Harris plans to match Susnell with some of the top boxers of his weight in the United States.

MAY SWAP SMITH FOR PFEFFER

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A deal between the Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals is expected to be completed within two weeks by club officials who concluded a week end conference here last night. The deal is said not to involve Rogers Hornsby, the Cardinals' star. Horusby announced in St. Louis last night that he would carry out the orders of his club although his differences with the management are as acute as ever.

The Braves may part with one of their catchers, particularly Earl Smith, in exchange for a pitcher, possibly Big Jeff Pfeffer. At least both names were mentioned in the week end discussion. The Braves have been negotiating with Pittsburgh to obtain the services of Rabbit Maranville, shortstop, formerly with Boston.

Golf Champ Ill

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.—Maxwell R. Marston, national amateur golf champion, is under the care of a physician and may have to undergo an operation for the removal of his tonsils, it became known today. His physician at first feared he might also have to submit to an operation for appendicitis.

Cue Wizards Will Match Skill Tonight

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—All is in readiness for the championship 132 ball cue billiards match starting at Orchestra Hall here tonight, when Willie Hoppe will have as an opponent Young Jake Schaefer, who is exercising his right to challenge, by finishing third in the recent New York tournament won by Hoppe. Hoppe will arrive from New York tomorrow. Schaefer has been here practicing several days.

The contest will be the usual 1,500 points played in three ninety blocks of 500 each.

Lower State Tax Sought By Promoters

ST. PAUL, Jan. 21.—Recommendations that the state tax on boxing bouts be reduced from ten per cent to five per cent was made yesterday by W. F. Saylor, secretary of the Minnesota Boxing Commission, in a report to the interim committee of the legislature. Saylor said that either the high tax must go or boxing will be abandoned by the promoters. He pointed out that the five per cent tax collected in Wisconsin brings a greater revenue in that state because it results in more fights.

Dean Is Heldout; Refuses To Sign

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 21.—Wayland Ogden Dean, pitcher recently purchased by the New York Giants from the Louisville Club of the American Association, has turned up today that he has not yet signed a contract offered him by Manager McGraw. He declared that the Louisville club signed him for $500 a month with the understanding that he would be given a substantial increase in salary if sold to one of the major league clubs.

Big Delegation From Huntington

Matchmaker Bill Harris received word today that possibly 150 Huntington fans would be down tonight to root for Jimmy Fenwick and Eddie Moore in their local battles. Fenwick is a great favorite in the spry city and the fans there say he is a coming champion.

JUST SPORT

WORLD SERIES EMBLEMS
The New York Americans are to receive handsome watches as an appropriate souvenir from Judge Landis for winning the world series. Owner Jake Ruppert says he will supply the chains.

TOO MUCH SPEED
Babe Ruth continues to be arrested for speeding. It happened twice in one week between Boston and Sudbury, Mass., where his farm is located, proving the Babe hasn't entirely reformed.

BENTLEY IN GOOD SHAPE
The much weight kept Jack Bentley from doing good work with the Giants last spring. He reported weighing well over 200 pounds and got a late start. He has profited thereby as he now weighs only 155.

WHAT ABOUT DYKES?
The securing of Second Baseman Bishop by Connie Mack from Baltimore probably means the passing of Jimmy Dykes unless the latter leader of the Athletics intends to try him a third time in case Hase and Ricarda fail.

MAKES MANY CHANGES
Elmer Smith, who started with Cleveland, then went to Washington, back to Cleveland, next to the Boston Red Sox and finally to New York, due for another change of scenery, this time to the minors, going to Louisville.

STARTED CAREER AT SHORT
Earl Shively, first sacker of the Chicago White Sox, began his career as a shortstop. An injured ankle that slowed him up caused him to take up catching, but he finally found his spot at first base.

How's Your Elimination?

If you have a "weak back," headaches, undue thirst, or "wandering" pains, it is probable that your kidneys are not doing their full duty. These products are overworked in the work of eliminating waste products. These products are systemic poisons when allowed to accumulate in the body, and they are conducive to a number of serious ailments.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS IN CC

Judge W. R. Sprague scored automobile drivers who operate cars when they are intoxicated when he imposed a fine of $50 and costs against Dave Callahan, 48 years old, of Ironton, in Municipal court Monday on a charge of having operated an automobile when he was intoxicated. Callahan was fined $100 for driving for sixty days and the court expressed its faith in his ability to enforce the order by reason of the defendant living in another city.

The charge against Callahan grew out of a collision in which the car he was driving struck a car driven by Melvone near the overhead crossing at Scotchline late Saturday afternoon. Callahan's companion, Joe McKee, also of Ironton, was also arrested for intoxication, and he was passed a fine of $15 and costs. The men admitted having taken a drink but denied they were intoxicated and claimed that the collision resulted from the machine
